

Mga Susing Punto mula sa Pag-aaral

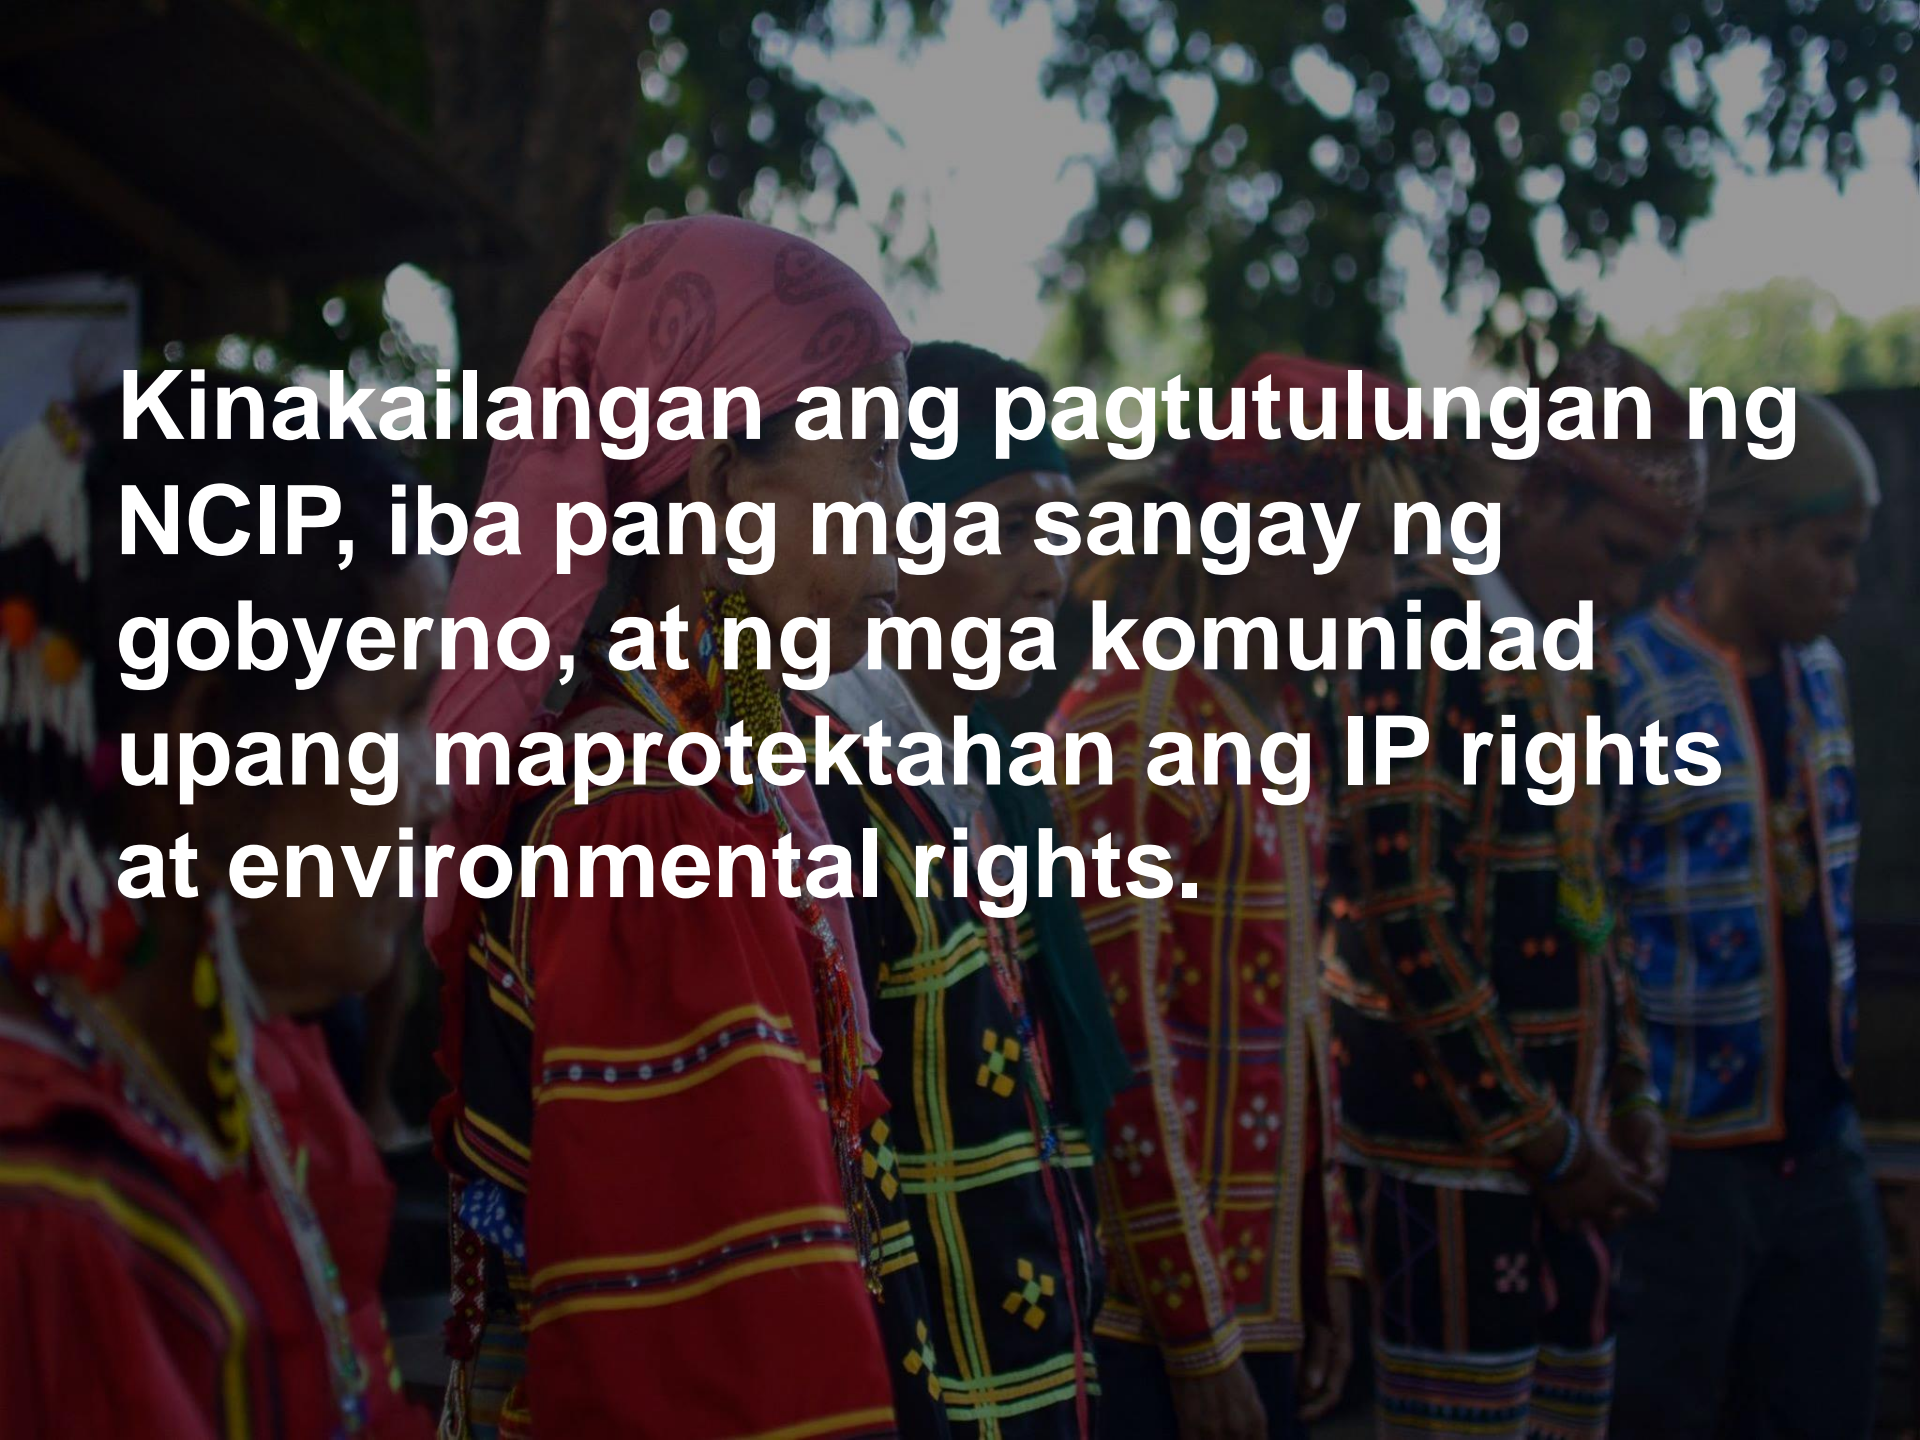

Presented by

Center for Environmental Concerns - Philippines

A group of indigenous people, likely from the Philippines, are shown in traditional attire. The woman in the foreground wears a red headscarf and a red and black patterned garment with yellow and white accents. Other individuals in the background wear similar traditional clothing. The scene is outdoors with trees in the background.

Ang mga indigenous people ay maituturing na “national minorities” mula noon hanggang ngayon.

A group of indigenous women, likely from the Philippines, are shown in profile, facing right. They are wearing traditional headscarves and intricately patterned blouses with vibrant colors like red, yellow, and blue. The background is slightly blurred, showing green foliage and a bright sky. The text is overlaid on the left side of the image in a bold, white, sans-serif font.

Kinakailangan ang pagtutulungan ng NCIP, iba pang mga sangay ng gobyerno, at ng mga komunidad upang maprotektahan ang IP rights at environmental rights.

1.8-M

Hectares

seascapes defended

4.4-M

Hectares

landscapes defended

102

34%

are indigenous people

148

49%

are small farmers and agriworkers

A group of people, likely from an indigenous community, are shown in profile, wearing traditional, colorful clothing. The individuals are dressed in vibrant, patterned garments with intricate designs. The background is slightly blurred, suggesting an outdoor setting with trees. The overall scene conveys a sense of cultural heritage and community.

Ang pagprotekta sa mga karapatan ng mga IPs ay mahalaga para tunay na maprotektahan ang kalikasan.

A group of people, likely from the Philippines, are shown in traditional attire. In the foreground, a woman wears a pink headscarf and a red garment with yellow and blue patterns. Behind her, a man in a blue and red patterned shirt is visible. The background shows other people in similar traditional clothing, some with headgear, standing outdoors with trees in the distance. The overall scene suggests a cultural event or festival.

MARAMING SALAMAT!